Rule 1 ~ Authentic Truth

(This can be for the Troubadour and also the Princess ~ the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine)

Living in authentic truth is that in each moment regardless of seas or seasons

I see you are the Troubadour,

I see you are love

I see you are God and that you live and be from that place of grace

you live from that place of integrity, authenticity, and honour

You are the most beautiful thing in the world to me and everything you do, be, say, and are

is beautiful

I see you as this and only this

You are this and only this

I see you as God and is why I fell in love with you and is why in each moment

I fall in love with you again and again in a true love of deep devotion

I see, feel, and experience that you the Troubadour in every moment you are fully fearlessly penetrating me with your love, consciousness, and presence

so that I blossom as the flower of love of the Princess I Am and I stand in awe of you as you are this

I also see, feel, and experience you the Troubadour in every moment you fully fearlessly are penetrating the world with your gifts in your mission fully in each moment and stand in awe of you as you are this unto and forevermore

with all of my being, heart, soul, in my vibration and within my every breathe

I see this, I feel this, I know this, I Am this with you

So be it

So it is

It is done
